

E VOLUTION

BY PROLINE FLOORS

Evolution Australian Select is a new and ground breaking flooring product, made by an Australian company, which has been tailor made for the Australian market.

In a world wide first we have created a flooring product so realistic that even professional flooring retailers and installers can't distinguish our product from the real timber.

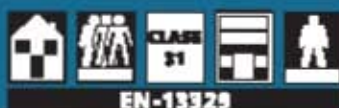

Featuring all Australian hardwood designs at affordable prices, this product has opened up a whole new market full of opportunities for the flooring retailer.

Our product fills that large gap in the market for customers who are not interested in the old traditional laminate styles, but don't want to go to the expense of a real Australian hardwood floor. The positive environmental attributes of Australian Select will also appeal to the many green minded customers out there.

Proline Floors are committed to our customers and our products. We constantly research and develop our ideas and have new innovations coming into the market all the time. We believe this sets us apart from our competitors.

By becoming a Proline Floors stockist you have a guarantee you will always be ahead of the field in terms of product innovation, customer service and price.
